

4flow named Kinaxis Top Strategic Partner

Award recognizes long-standing partner's impact in driving digital supply chain transformation

Berlin, Germany – January 26, 2026 – 4flow, a leading global provider of fourth-party logistics (4PL) services, supply chain consulting and software, has been named Kinaxis Top Strategic Partner. The award recognizes 4flow's outstanding performance, deep expertise and continued success in delivering measurable value to customers with the Kinaxis Maestro™ supply chain orchestration platform.

The award, which was presented at the annual Kinaxis Ignite sales kickoff event, reflects the strength of the long-standing partnership between 4flow and Kinaxis, as well as 4flow's impact in helping organizations accelerate digital supply chain transformation.

"Kinaxis is laser-focused on strengthening our partner ecosystem and is deeply committed to collaborating with our partners to deliver leading supply chain management solutions for our customers. We look forward to raising the bar in 2026," said Conrad Mandala, Executive Vice President GTM and Strategic Operations at Kinaxis.

Leveraging decades of digital supply chain expertise, 4flow has become a trusted member of the Kinaxis PartnerLink ecosystem and plays a key role in helping organizations to improve planning and build more resilient, data-driven supply chains.

4flow serves as a Kinaxis system integrator and solution extension partner, bringing together people, processes and technology to help customers maximize the value of their Maestro investment. 4flow's suite of solutions includes consulting and management services as well Maestro-integrated apps like Kinaxis Transportation Load Optimizer by 4flow (TLO) and Kinaxis network design by 4flow.

4flow also serves as a value-added reseller (VAR), which enables the company to support customers with fast access to a feature-rich, entry-level supply chain planning product package tailored to meet the unique needs of businesses beginning or advancing their digital transformation journeys.

"Being named Top Strategic Partner is a tremendous honor for 4flow and a strong validation of our team's commitment to delivering real, measurable value for our customers," said Akhilesh Mohan, Vice President Supply Chain Consulting at 4flow. "Our close collaboration with Kinaxis has allowed us to help organizations around the world tackle supply chain complexity while turning advanced planning capabilities into tangible business results."

The Kinaxis PartnerLink ecosystem is made up of system integrators, cloud partners, solution extension partners and VARs. United by the goal of enabling end-to-end supply chain orchestration, the program empowers organizations to achieve strategic transformation and optimize their global supply chains.
