

4flow brings SAP® expertise to the U.S.

Dedicated SAP team, directed by industry leader, offers supply chain solutions

DETROIT—4flow, a global leader in supply chain consulting, software and managed services, today announced that it has expanded its SAP partnership to the United States and has welcomed a global industry leader to direct the initiative.

Akhilesh Mohan will oversee 4flow's SAP practice as vice president of supply chain consulting. Mohan comes to 4flow from Accenture. He brings nearly 20 years of expertise in SAP implementation and consulting with clients worldwide.

The moves build on 4flow's SAP partnership in Germany and reinforce the company's commitment to providing top-tier SAP consulting and implementation capabilities to more clients worldwide.

"Our goal is to partner with businesses across North America to ensure that they can navigate the complexities of the modern supply chain landscape effectively," 4flow CEO Kai Althoff said. "

This expansion marks a significant milestone in 4flow's growth strategy. We continue to strengthen our global presence and our commitment to delivering cutting-edge solutions that drive success for our clients."

Mohan will lead 4flow's efforts from Atlanta, where he is based. He and his team will have a presence across North America and especially in Detroit, 4flow's North American headquarters.
